Lacey Before the Grant Club of Des Moines, Iowa May 19, 1903 Gentlemen: Henry Clay was born on the 12th day of April, 1777, and died on the 29th day of June, 1852. He entered public life in 1803, a hundred years ago, and for 49 years his name was associated with almost every important public occurrence in our country. He might without vanity have spoken of those events, All of which I saw, and a part of which I was. The memory of the present generation needs to be refreshed by the study of the lives of our early statemen. General Butler used to tell a story about the celebrated statue at New Orleans. While he was in command in the city, one day he was riding out with his Irish orderly, when they passed the dark bronze statue of Mr. Clay on Canal street, the Orderly rode up to the General s side and touched his hat and said, General what statue is that? The General replied, It is Clay. A few days after that they were passing the same place again, and the Orderly again rode up to the General and said, Why did you tell me that statue was Clay? Oh, replied the General. Everybody says so. Said the Orderly. General they have lied to you, for I examined it. It is iron. But Mr. Clay had a monument more enduring than bronze in the hearts of his countrymen. We are now far enough from the excitement of that period to view and measure it dispassionately. We can divide the last hundred years into...
