In the mind of the writer the religious establishment is of primary, the State of secondary importance (cf. Speak. Com.). There are three principal features (a) a greater tendency to dwell on the ritual, on the details of the Temple worship, the various functions of the Priests and Levites, the arrangement of the courses and the like; h)a marked genealogical bias, and desire to record names of persons engaged in events narrated; (c)a more constant, open, and direct ascription of all the events of history to Divine agency, and especially a more plain reference of every great calamity or deliverance to the good or evil deeds of the monarch, or the nation, which Divine Providence so punished or rewarded fcf. Speak. Com.). The Object. It is historical, yet the writer seems to forget former histories and gives his own. First to give an entire history from the very beginning to...
